

William Sekyi is an Of Counsel patent attorney with Patterson Intellectual Property Law in Nashville. He began his practice in Washington, D.C. in 2002 and has been litigating patent disputes in district courts, appellate courts, and the International Trade Commission ever since. In addition to litigating, he counsels clients on IP matters, prosecutes patents, and more recently has been involved in a number of inter partes review proceedings before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. William earned a B.Sc. in mechanical engineering from Imperial College, London University, his M.S. in petroleum engineering from Louisiana State University, and his J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center.